Announcement of the 6th Conference by Zhongshan Advanced Optics Consortium

We are pleased to announce that Zhongshan Advanced Optics Consortium (ZAOC) will have the 6th Conference at Zhongshan, China this year.

This consortium was born and established by several Japanese companies engaging the advanced optics industry. Every year ZAOC invites influential people from leading edge corporations, academics, research institutes, mass media in East Asian countries and organizes an international conference for the attendees to exchange the latest market trends, technologies and product info as well as form a close-knitted network over the industry throughout East Asia.

This year, we focus on executive officers of global corporations in China as invited speakers. I believe this conference will be an enlightening opportunity to all the attendees.

We look forward to seeing you at the coming conference in November.

Sincerely,

Tatsuya Koizumi, Secretary General
